

For Immediate Release

Contact: Joy E. Bitter
708-293-7750, ext. 169

Daubert Cromwell Adds Midwest Regional Sales Manager

ALSIP, IL (January, 2014) – Matthew Stachel of Chicago has been named Regional Sales Manager in the Midwest for Daubert Cromwell, a global manufacturer of corrosion inhibitor packaging products.

Stachel, 34, has a background in packaging product sales and service. At Daubert Cromwell, he will provide product training, application assistance, on-site service and product selection for proper packaging of metal parts at all stages, from production to export. He will work closely with Regional Sales Manager Mike Bentley and the entire Daubert Cromwell team to solve corrosion problems in automotive, heavy equipment, and fabricated metal parts markets.

Stachel will focus on a territory that includes Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota and North Dakota. Bentley will continue to work in Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, besides managing select key accounts for Daubert Cromwell.

Stachel can be reached at mstachel@daubertcromwell.com; 312-415-8609. To contact Bentley, call 815-341-3509 or send an e-mail to mbentley@daubertcromwell.com

About Daubert Cromwell

Since the 1940s, the Daubert companies have set industry standards in corrosion prevention packaging. Today Daubert Cromwell VCI products are used in automotive, heavy equipment, electronics, military, and fabricated metal markets worldwide. Corporate offices are in USA, Germany, China, and Mexico, with distribution and manufacturing networks in 26 countries